Standard #3: Learning Environments. The teacher works with learners to create environments that support individual and collaborative learning and that encourage positive social interaction, active engagement in learning, and self-motivation. 2

Comments:
With continued experience in classroom settings, I will believe this will become easier for Krista. Interacting with children in a natural and comfortable way seemed to be difficult for Krista and she mentioned several times that she was nervous. I encourage her to gain comfort with interaction with the children during teaching time (small group) and during everyday interactions. Acting as a facilitator seemed to be difficult for Krista. By the end of her practicum, she was becoming more comfortable interacting with the preschoolers in our programs.

Comments:
I believe Krista has a wonderful understanding of the content matter and ease of lesson planning , but still needs to gain comfort in the implementation with children. Interaction through questioning, guiding, and observing and assessing is a skill that Krista will continue to improve on as she gains comfort in the classroom setting.
